

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

You can support the work of SACID by becoming a SACID Member.

SACID offers free membership for people with disability and their families or people on low income. Other individuals can become a SACID member for a fee of $20.00. Organisations can become SACID members for a fee of $60.00.

Being a SACID Member helps us to continue our work in SA. It also links you with our national and international community through the work we do with Inclusion Australia.

We keep our members up to date with:

- Newsletters
- eNews updates
- Useful resources
- Early invitations to our events

You can become a member by contacting SACID or completing an online membership form at www.sacid.org.au/membership

What We Do

Access to Advocacy

SACID believes that people with intellectual disability and their families should be able to get the help they need to speak up and make sure their rights are respected.

If you need support to speak up SACID can help you to solve the problem yourself or connect you with an advocate.

SACID also help with advocacy by meeting with Government representatives regularly to make sure the voice of people with intellectual disability and their families is heard.

Inclusion Australia

Inclusion Australia bring together groups across Australia who are connected to people with intellectual disability and who are committed to the shared vision of inclusion in all aspects of Australian life.

SACID is the South Australian agency of Inclusion Australia. We make sure South Australia's voice is heard in all of the work done by Inclusion Australia.

For more information about Inclusion Australia you can visit their website:

www.inclusionaustralia.org.au

Taking the Lead

People with intellectual disability are involved at all levels of SACID. SACID make sure people with intellectual disability have a strong voice in the organisation and are involved in setting the direction of the work we do.

SACID also support people with intellectual disability to have a strong voice in their communities. We do this by supporting people with intellectual disability to get involved in Peer Action Groups that work on projects to make their communities more inclusive.

SA Inclusion Point

SACID provide an information service called SA Inclusion Point.

If you need information about anything to do with intellectual disability get in contact with us!

What is SA Inclusion Point?

- We are a service where people with intellectual disability and their families can get easy to understand information.
- We develop easy to understand information and resources for people with intellectual disability and their families.
- We run information sessions and workshops for people with intellectual disability and their families.
- We have information for mainstream services to help them do better at including people with intellectual disability.
- We answer questions from anyone in the community to help them better understand intellectual disability. We do this to help the South Australian community be inclusive of people with intellectual disability.
