

South Australian Council on Intellectual Disability

Mission

To work towards achieving a South Australian community in which people with intellectual disability are involved and accepted as equal participating members.

Objectives

- To ensure SACID operates as the viable state representative for issues relevant to people with intellectual disability and their families.
- To consult with all stakeholders to set directions and then lead in the areas of need for people with intellectual disability.
- To advocate for a community where people with intellectual disability can be involved and accepted as equal participating members.
- To ensure the rights of people with intellectual disability to have advocacy in all its forms available to assist them, if required, in all of life's domains so that they may attain equal participation in the community.
- To promote the human, legal and civil rights of people with intellectual disability.
- To liaise with Inclusion Australia on issues of concern to people with intellectual disability in South Australia.
- To undertake any other kind of activity in support of the above objectives.

SACID Membership

You can support the work of SACID by becoming a SACID Member. SACID offers two types of membership:

- Individual Membership
- Corporate Membership

Being a SACID Member helps us to continue our work in SA. It also links you with our national and international community through the work we do with Inclusion Australia.

We keep our members up to date with:

- Newsletters
- Useful resources
- eNews updates
- Early invitations to our events
